State Command Chief Master Sergeant

Command Chief Master Sergeant Angella Beckom

Chief Master Sergeant Angella Beckom is the State Command Chief Master Sergeant, Florida Air National Guard.

Chief Beckom enlisted in the Florida Air National Guard in 1990 as an Airman Basic - information management journeyman – later cross training to the health services management career field. Throughout her 31+ years of service, Chief Beckom has held multiple roles in leadership including assignments as the 125th Medical Group Senior Enlisted Leader, Chief Enlisted Manager, and additional duty as First Sergeant. In July 2020, she was selected to serve as the 125th Fighter Wing Command Chief Master Sergeant, a position she held until her selection to serve as the State Command Chief Master Sergeant of the Florida Air National Guard in 2022.

In June 2021, Chief Beckom was selected to serve as the Region 3 Alternate for the Air National Guard Enlisted Field Advisory Council representing the Airmen of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Puerto Rico, South Carolina, Tennessee, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Recently, Chief Beckom was selected to serve as the Region 3 Primary. In this role, she assists with providing enlisted members of the ANG a vehicle to express their concerns and takes lead on issues and concerns of the ANG Command Chief Master Sergeant, providing a conduit for two-way communication between the field and the Director, ANG, through the ANG Command Chief Master Sergeant.

Chief Beckom is a 2019 graduate of Nova Southeastern University with a Doctorate of Health Science, a 2007 graduate of Liberty University with a Master's Degree in Human Relations, a 2003 graduate of Liberty University with a Bachelor's Degree in Multidisciplinary Studies, a 2002 graduate of the Community College of the Air Force with an Associate's Degree in Health Care Management.
